

Kevin Kaye – Big Beat Entertainment

Kevin is originally from the North East but now resides “Down South”. He does however say he has a fast car and is willing to travel anywhere within the UK.

Kevin has been in the business for 40 years and has the ability to entertain at all levels and all venues. He is available for stand up comedy for corporate events, private functions, cruise work, cabaret, holiday parks, weddings, clubs, after dinner sets and not forgetting he is also a great compere and master of ceremonies. His versatility also extends to booking as a vocalist for any event or a combination of both vocals and comedy.

In his after dinner work he has performed at some of the top venues in the UK and has worked alongside some of the top sports personalities from all over Great Britain.
